

Coping with Frugality

Blast Off for Summer Fun with Aeromax

Are you looking for fun ways to keep the kids active during the summer? If so, then you are going to want to check out the Jr. Space Explorer Inflatable Space Shuttle by Aeromax. This inflatable toy is so unique in that it can be used both indoors and outdoors so it maximizes the excitement.

My daughter LOVES playing astronaut. She has a large cardboard rocket ship in our living room that she has had for almost 2 years and still plays with every day! When we got the Jr. Space Explorer Inflatable Space Shuttle she immediately wanted to take it out of the box and play with it. It was very hard for her to wait the few weeks before our trip to Florida but I knew she would love using it in the large swimming pool there.

The details on this space shuttle make it stand out from many other inflatable toys on the market. From the detailed control panel to the tiles on the bottom, space enthusiasts will appreciate all of the small details on this toy. This inflatable space shuttle can be used inside or out so it can provide year round fun!

We took it with us to Florida for a family reunion and it was a huge hit. Unfortunately, we lost one of our camera memory cards (sob!) and I couldn't find any pictures of the kids using it. We were there for a week and it stood up to daily use from six kids ranging from 3-16.

I was happy that it came with a couple patch kits. A few days into the trip the kids were playing and the oldest kid cannon-balled off the side of the pool onto the space shuttle. As she is trying to climb onto it I hear, "Houston, we have a problem." One of the seams had slightly ripped and the toy was losing air. However, a patch kit and an hour later and it was back in the pool ready for play.

The Aeromax Jr. Space Explorer Inflatable Space Shuttle can be purchased directly from the Aeromax website for $34.95. Aeromax offers other great summer toys such as the Astronaut Space Pack Super-Soaking Water Blaster, the Fire Power Super Soaking Fire Hose with Backpack, and the Sky Scrapers, which soar over 100 feet in the air!